Germany and the Emperor of the French.

There are times in the lives of all men when they have a claim to our pity, and just now the man with most claim to it is the Emperor of the French. He is encountering almost irresistible temptation.

But the other day it was arranged that he should go to Baden-Baden to meet the Prince Regent of Prussia, in order, it was said, to renew the mutual confidence shaken by some expressions in a private letter which a busybody had got hold of and taken to Paris. The Emperor must see the Prince of Prussia, and receive from his own lips the assurances that no minister should be authorised to convey. So the Prince of Prussia arrived at Baden-Baden on Thursday evening, and the Emperor was expected to arrive last night. The story as told affected nobody else, and there was no reason why two should not despatch the business in half an hour, and begone their several ways. But Germany does not give Emperors so scant a measure of civility. When a great prince comes into her waters every minnow must come to greet him. There they all are, such a conflux as one never thought to see till the Archangel gathered them. The Grand Duke of Baden, the King of Bavaria, and the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar had already arrived yesterday afternoon. There were expected the Kings of Saxony, Wurtemberg, and Hanover; the Grand Duke of Hesse-Darmstadt; the Dukes of Coburg-Gotha and Nassau. All the Kings, and it is not said how many other sovereign Princes, are to assist at the meeting between the Emperor and the Prince Regent.

What can all this mean? One certainly has read of the like before. It used to be said that "history never repeats itself," but an older authority says "there is nothing new under the sun."

If you open a window in a summer's evening, you have a similar result. Moth after moth emerges from the outer darkness, flies at the candles, wheels a giddy circle or two, is absorbed in the fiery vortex, and falls to the table

writhing and spinning in unavailing agony.

All these people are just doing what their fathers did before them. It runs in the blood. great English naturalist affirms that trout inherit from their forefathers a horror of the hook and a scepticism as to bait. The German trout love the hook, and rise at the coarsest bait. Nothing deters them. The German crow sees his father nailed to the barn door, and flies into the selfsame toils.

The course of the Prince Regent to Baden is, of course, causal. He happened to be going there by the invariable ill-luck that is always taking a certain class of persons into harm's way. The Emperor of the French, hearing of his visit, invites himself to share the pleasure of the excursion. The Prince

Regent is afraid that the smaller Powers of Germany will put an ill construction on the interview, and conclude, in fact, that in return for the Rhenish provinces the Emperor is about to present Prussia with a sack-full of little crowns. Nothing, however, would please the Emperor so much as a personal interview with the numerous victims of these morbid suspicions. So they are all to be present—ostensibly to see that they are not sold in their absence, but we should think also with the idea that positive advantages are not altogether out of the question. The man who can destroy them can do them good,

if he thinks fit. The map of Europe is disjoined; landmarks are removed; there is giving and taking; a State threatened with absorption may reasonably plead not only for existence, but for a modest degree of aggrandizement; so every crowned head in Germany, excepting Austria, is to do honour to the Emperor of the French. How pleasant it must be to be reminded of the events not quite two generations back! Would they like another Confederation of the Rhine?

The gambling-tables are opened on that familiar scene, and principalities are the stake. Is it to be roulette or rouge-et-noir? We should like to see them all put down their title-deeds on the table, and to watch their countenances as the Imperial croupier rakes them all into his heap. It is scarcely possible to pity those who invoke their own doom, and commit felo de se in the act of dishonest expectation. The Emperor's feelings can only be those of a modern sportsman as he enters a well-stocked preserve, and sees the foolish birds hustling about on all sides. Let us put ourselves among the bystanders at this new "Conversation House," as they call the place at Baden, and bet how many rouleaux the Emperor will win, and how much small change he will fling back to the Prince of Prussia. He really cannot help it. "It is the curse of Kings to be surrounded." We need not say that Austria is delighted. The meeting at Villafranca was nothing to this, for how could the Emperor of Austria help the stupidity of his Generals? Indeed, he made the best bargain he could, and certainly did not court his fate by obsequiousness. Nothing, however, but an actual appetite for self-humiliation could bring Prussia, with a crowd of small Sovereigns, to attend the levee of a French Emperor at Baden! For our part, we are sorry to see the material of which Central Europe is composed. We seem to be surrounded by illusions. They seem to flutter round a substantial Emperor in flesh and blood as the shades gaped and gibbered about Æneas in the infernal regions. It is of no use to have even wishes about such people. They must go their own way for good or for evil. If they simply disappear, it can make no difference, and certainly will not diminish the stock of European virtue.—London Times, June 20.

RELIGIOUS REFORMS IN RUSSIA.—A letter from Odessa dated April 29, says:—"Russia is at the present moment accomplishing two religious reforms. The first is a careful translation into the Russian language of the Holy Scriptures and the prayers of the Church. Hitherto the old slavonic tongue was the language used, and as the Latin in the Roman Church is a dead letter to the congregation, so the Slave has been to the Russians. The translation of both Old and New Testament had already been commenced. The second reform is the abolition of the seminaries, where up to the present not only the priests themselves received their education, but were obliged to bring up their children. The male portion of the family were thus compelled to adopt the sacerdotal profession, whether they were so disposed or not. Thus the priestly character was rendered in Russia purely hereditary as well as compulsory. Those young persons who were admitted, notwithstanding their not being children of any priest, had to embrace the profession nolens volens. In place of the seminaries, which are now to be abolished, it is proposed to have a theological faculty in all the universities, so that persons may have it in their own power to choose the vocation they are to pursue, and not be made priests by force."

A HONOLULU RIVAL OF THE "WOODEN NUTMEGS."—Time was when the Connecticut Yankees had the credit of being the smartest operators in wooden nutmegs and other spurious wares; but the last importation from England shows that the palm now belongs to the other side of the pond. Two cases landed from the bark Grecian direct from London, purporting to be umbrellas, and invoiced at $171, were found, on being opened, to be filled with house bricks well packed in old straw, shavings, &c. The consignee in England is said to have advanced largely on the shipment, which, if the shippers were irresponsible parties, as may prove to be the case, will be a loss to him.—Honolulu Advertiser.

The Weekly Eloquence on Taxes.

The last number of the galvanized Gazette furnishes conclusive evidence that it belongs to another age than ours. In its archaeological researches into mediæval history it has made the astonishing discovery that it was an old Saxon custom for everybody to tax everybody's property. What is more—that those astute legislators, the "Vestrymen" of England, still cling as closely to that mode of assessing church-rates as the nation at large does to magna charta and popular parliaments; or even Bishop Hills to the possession of the Church Reserve. Saxon usage traced down to modern custom by our archaeological contemporaries has not been done merely to display its learning; but to furnish a venerable precedent—sanctioned by Church and State—for everybody sending in a list of his property for the assessors. Doubtless all those who reverence a hoary antiquity, or are inclined to Obstructive Oldfogyism, will at once make confession of their landed estate, even though their time may be spent in doing what an assessor should be bound to do, in order to know that it was taxed. But as this is not an age over distinguished for treading in the footsteps of its defunct progenitors; but rather distinguished for its practical innovations to gain the most by spending the least time and labor, we opine that the ancient Saxon custom will prove exceedingly distasteful to the country if made compulsory.

Whilst ignoring the democratic tendencies of the times the weekly eloquence must have astonished itself and its readers by the advocacy of a public meeting in each district to ratify the assessment roll. Cobden in adapting direct taxation to England had better take a lesson from our Obstructive lawgivers, and thus he would popularize taxes. But we fear that neither Bright nor Cobden, much as they like public meetings, would be induced to adopt such democratic levies; not because they do not sympathise with the masses; but because such pre-earious ideas are simply absurd. The full benefit, however, of the suggestion we relinquish without reluctance to a contemporary—the light of a past age.

Another curious specimen of antiquarianism is found in its defence of the exemption of fences from taxation. "Farmer's fences," says the organ, "ought certainly not to be taxed, because frequently the fence costs more than the land, and is entirely unproductive." The sage conclusion that fences are "entirely unproductive," is convincing proof no doubt to the lot owners of Victoria, that their garden or lot fences ought to be taxed, whilst their rural neighbors have their fences exempted. The inference is that fences in town are productive, though not in the country. Such shallow logic we admire; and those who benefit by the exemption may have good reason to do also. "But the fences and other improvements" cost more than the land! This is another sage conclusion for the press of a new country, where land has never been taxed by vestrymen, although land sales have supported the church. Were townsfolk prepared to take up this line of argument nearly all the houses and stores in town could be shown to cost more than the ground on which they are erected; and consequently they should be exempted. But such a nonsensical reason for exempting improvements from taxes are too preposterous to be attributed to any but the admirers of "an ancient Saxon custom." The real truth of the matter is, no just grounds can be given for taxing improvements in town and not in the country. Property of all kinds—in all places—should pay in proportion to its value; and any general variation merits censure. In the Assembly are four town members; Nanaimo, one; Esquimalt, one; Victoria, two. And yet without exception they consent to tax their constituents unfairly. This occurs not only for the support of the general government, but to improve our streets. What is the special £2000 for Victoria streets but an unfair tax? we are not incorporated, perhaps will not be for another year. We bear the same relation to the general government as the farmers in the districts or the inhabitants of Esquimalt or Nanaimo; still we are to pay a road tax not paid by any other part of the country. Such special impositions neither prove sound principles of legislation; nor common justice.

Retrenchment.

Although not included in the Estimates, it appears to be an understood thing that there is to be a treasury clerk, with a salary of £200 a year—at least not less than that sum. With £400 a year to the Treasurer, and £100 for contingencies, the sum total for treasury duties will be £700, or $3,500. Had Mr. Cooper, or any other competent person, been appointed Treasurer, £300 would have been saved, where there is now a clear loss to that amount. If such is the retrenchment policy of the government, we are certainly not among its admirers. Taking the Estimates so far as voted at £16,000, the treasury staff will cost the country every twenty-third dollar of the entire revenue. So the dear people—we don't mean the treasury staff, for we may safely style them very dear—may consider every twenty-third dollar paid in taxes, direct and indirect, as the Treasurer's, for keeping, receiving, and paying out the colonial revenue. Had Mr. Cooper's proposition to discharge the duties for half the amount, been accepted, instead of paying one dollar in twenty-three for Treasurer's salary, they would only have had to pay fifty cents. It is apparent a serious mistake has been made, if nothing worse; for the expenses of the department are entirely out of proportion with the probable amount to be received. The question assumes so grave an aspect—a manifest loss of £300—twenty-third part of the revenue absorbed by the treasury staff—that a modification of our departmental system deserves a speedy consideration. In fact, if such salaries—so disproportionate to our revenue—are to be paid, the sooner some scheme—consistent with our free port system—for the union of the two colonies, is started, the better. For if we—a small colony as we are—are expected to support a costly and cumbersome departmental system, at an expense nearly sufficient for the departments of the united colonies, we will find it neither wise nor economical,—particularly as no corresponding advantage has apparently resulted from a separate colonial existence.

AN INDIAN WOMAN SHOT.—On Sunday morning last, about one o'clock, a Hydah Indian woman, while on her way home, was shot in the rear of the Royal Hospital, by a Cowichean Indian, who had followed her, in company with three others, for some distance. The inmates of the hospital, hearing the woman cry out, repaired to the spot, and found her lying on the ground weltering in her blood. She was conveyed to the hospital, when it was ascertained that her left arm was shattered almost in pieces by a pistol ball, and that she had also been shot through her left side. Officer Blake was informed of the affair, and after a diligent search, about daylight discovered three Cowicheans in a canoe, preparing to leave the vicinity of the Songish encampment. Summoning them to come ashore, they at first refused; but upon the officer presenting a Colt's persuader, they landed and were taken into custody. One of their number was fully identified by the wounded female as the assassin. Yesterday morning Judge Pemberton remanded the one identified for a week, to await the result of the injuries inflicted, and discharged his two companions. It is not probable the woman will survive her injuries.

Royal Hospital.

The number of patients admitted to this institution during the month of July, was 18; of which five have been discharged cured; one removed by relatives; and three have died. The diseases with which those admitted have been afflicted are as follows:

Inanity.....	1
Gunshot wound.....	1
Knife wounds.....	3
Rheumatism.....	1
Ulcer of leg.....	1
Ulcer of throat.....	1
Injury of foot.....	1
Injury of leg.....	1
Purulent ophthalmia.....	1
Injury of scrotum.....	1
Injury of urine.....	1
Retention of urine.....	1
Total.....	18

The deaths were: Thos. Brown (colored), West Indies, aged 20, knife wound; Mecalf Redhead, England, aged 60, apoplexy; Edward McCabe, Ireland, aged 32, knife wound.

There are 15 patients at present in the Hospital. All the beds of the establishment are in use, and there is no straw on hand with which to fill others. Relief is loudly called for, and, it is to be hoped, will be freely rendered by our citizens.

ORDERED TO VACATE.—The Gold Harbor Indians, living on the South side of the harbor, were yesterday ordered to remove to Deadman's Point, on the opposite shore.

SMOKED SALMON.—The first lot of smoked salmon from Fraser River this season, sold yesterday for 12½ per lb.

PAINFUL RUMOR.—Within the past two or three days a rumor has been floating round town to the effect that the Chinse Indians have taken the Hudson Bay Company's establishment, at Fort Simpson, murdered Mr. Moffit, the Chief Factor, and three of his employes, and pillaged the place. The report, as far as we can trace it, was brought down by some Indians (always doubtful authority in such cases) who arrived in town the other day in a canoe. No credence is attached to the tale by the Company's representatives here, and we are inclined to believe it a story manufactured in town with the view of creating an excitement.

FIRST CLASS LODGING HOUSES.—During a debate in the House of Assembly, a few days ago, the Speaker let slip an observation which threw some light upon a subject which has been kept profoundly dark for some time back. The honorable gentleman said the clerks of certain of the departments lodged in the government buildings. What an economical idea! When a new clerk is hired, we suppose he is offered a small salary with the addition of lodgings free of charge. Why not turn the whole range of birdeages into lodging-houses?

TREASURE SHIPPED.—Wells, Fargo & Co. have shipped to San Francisco, by the last three steamers, the following amounts of gold dust:

Per Pacific, August 1st.....	$2,183
Per Oregon, 10th.....	31,949
Per Pacific, " 10th.....	27,797
Total.....	$9,929

SENT TO THE CHAIN-GANG.—Louis De Castro, a Bengalese, was yesterday convicted of being a dealer in Indian whisky and a vagrant, and sent to the chain-gang for the space of three months.

APPLES.—Fresh Oregon apples were wholesaling yesterday in the market at from six to eight cents per lb., according to quality.

For particulars

From the River.

The steamer Wilson G. Hunt arrived from the river about seven o'clock on Saturday evening. Ballou's Express brought down $9,000.

We have received nothing of importance from Rock Creek or Quesnelle River—the Pony Express not having yet made its return trip from either point.

A miner had arrived at Fort Hope from Rock Creek. He reports everything "all right" in that locality, and says he has no doubt the diggings are richer than any yet found in British Columbia.

Men and mule-trains are arriving at Rock Creek from the Dalles almost daily. The fever is spreading through Oregon rapidly.

New bench diggings are reported on Kettle Creek.

The silver lead at Hope is attracting attention from all parts of the river. Several parties have gone out to prospect for new leads.

The Empire Lead, lately struck near the Greenwood Lead, is supposed to be a portion of the same claim.

A silver lead is reported to have been struck on Harrison River, which will assay $100 to the ton.

THE CHARGES AGAINST THE MASTER OF THE BARK GRECIAN.—The charges preferred against Robert B. Miller, master of the bark Grecean, lately from London, were disposed of by the Police Judge on Saturday morning last. The first was a charge brought by Charles Lee, one of the crew of the vessel, who asked permission of the captain on the day the vessel was moored at the wharf to go ashore in order to lay a complaint of his treatment on the voyage. The captain refused to allow him to go ashore, saying he would send a magistrate aboard, which he never did. The Police Judge convicted Captain Miller, and ordered him to pay a fine of £10. The second charge was brought by Wm. Donaldson against the same party. Donaldson accused Captain Miller of having, while on the high seas, caught him by the throat and threatened to shoot him, and afterwards put him in irons. Donaldson was ship's steward, and had given away a can of lobsters and three or four hams. The captain, on another occasion, called him a thief and a liar. Complainant replied that the captain was one too. The chief officer, (Mr. Hood) testified that Captain Miller was drunk at the time of the assault. Mr. Lyne (a passenger) said the Captain came on deck one day, and saw the steward put himself in a fighting attitude, saying, "come on, now; I'm ready for you." The whole voyage seems to have been attended with great disorder and confusion; and witnesses swore the captain was intoxicated a greater part of the time. His Honor, after a careful examination, dismissed the case, on account of the conflicting testimony; remarking at the same time, that he regretted such a man as Captain Miller should have been entrusted with the command of a vessel.

COLONIAL THEATRE.—To-morrow night, the theatrical corps of H. M. S. Ganges, will appear at the Colonial Theatre. The bill offered is excellent, and as this will be their last performance before leaving this station, they certainly deserve a bumper house—particularly as they have on several occasions volunteered their aid in raising funds for the Royal Hospital. Give the tars a farewell benefit.

SILVER ASSAY. We saw a piece of Fort Hope silver taken from the vein at a depth of not more than five feet from the surface, that was assayed yesterday by Marchand & Co., and yielded $257 to the ton. That speaks well for the lead, and is strong proof that as the vein is prospected deeper, better results will follow.

TO BE MOVED BACK.—The Post Office and the building next adjoining, on the north, are to be moved back on a line with the rest of the houses on the west side of Government street.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.—This body met yesterday, and passed the Pilot Bill in Committee of the Whole. A full report of the proceedings will appear in to-morrow's issue.

CITY TRADE REPORT.

MONDAY EVENING, August 20, 1860.

We have very little to note in the way of trade; the market is well supplied with nearly all the staple articles, and prices remain low and without much change. Golden Gate Flour is held at $0@25 per bbl; Oregon, $6 25@75. A sale of 10,000 lbs. Bacon, of an inferior quality, was made at auction to-day, by J. A. McCrea, at 6½c per lb; prime is held at 17c per lb, jobber's rates. Nothing is transpiring in Sugars; China No 1 is generally held at 7c per lb. In China Rice business has been good; No 1 is nearly all out of market—some small lots being held at 7c per lb; sales of 200 mts No 1 on p.t.; 200 do Batavia, at 6c. Beans are dull sale at 4½c for Bayos, and 4c for California reds and pinks. There is a scarcity of fresh Butter in the market—Oregon lump, choice, being held at 40c per lb. Vegetables are in good supply and fair demand; new potatoes are selling for 1½c per lb; Cabbages, 1½c; and Onions, at 2½c.

Cayoosh Going Ahead.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST:—Having a few leisure hours I intend to drop you a few lines, as Myers' Express has arrived to-day. I hope you will have space for them in your widely circulated sheet. The Colonist has a large circulation here, and is a great favorite.

CHEAP PROVISIONS.

Now, Sir, until lately, Cayoosh was almost unknown. But when I inform you and the readers of the Colonist that we sell flour at $12 50 per 100 lbs, and other things in proportion, you may feel astonished.

SUPPLYING LYTTON CITY.

Our merchants have been sending provisions for the last two or three weeks down to Lytton, cheaper than they can be supplied from Yale. Mr. Nelson went down a few days ago with a mule-train and a large canoe load and sold it for $16 50 per cwt. for flour, and I hear he contracted to supply certain parties with 60,000 lbs. of flour at $16 per 100.

MINING.

Our mines are far from caving in; our miners are doing very well,—indeed it would astonish you to see the ore knocking around on Sundays when the miners come to town to pay up their bills for the week. There are two extensive tunnels being run into the first bench from the river, and the companies expect to strike it "big" before long.

THE CELESTIALS.

Are settling down in our midst very fast, they are building houses, and if they keep on as they are doing, will soon have as many as the white; in fact they think (and they are right) Cayoosh is going to be a very large place.

OUR AMUSEMENTS.

I suppose you think we envy you in Victoria with your theatres, horse racing and regattas. But far from it: we have horse racing every day, and hijoy fiddling and dancing every night. On Monday there were two splendid races between A. Macdonald's bay horse and T. Currie's black horse for $50 a side—the latter winning in the first race—distance, 200 yards. A. Macdonald's bay horse, won the second race, distance 600 yards, for $100, with considerable side betting.

FROM THE QUESNELLE.

The news from the upper country is as usual—every thing cheap, no one grumbling but the merchants. A canoe was capsized on Quesnelle river below the Forks, containing five men and laden with provisions. The men were all saved, but the provisions and $800 in dust was lost. Provisions at the Forks of Quesnelle are as follows:—Flour, $25; beans, $26, and bacon $45 50 per 100 lbs., with every thing else in proportion; sales small.

REMOVAL.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS REMOVED

PRINCE JEROME BONAPARTE.—The death of this member of the Bonaparte family has been telegraphed. He was the last of the brothers of him who gave the family its historic name, and he departed this life at the age of seventy-six. He participated in the wars of Napoleon, and was by his side at Waterloo. He married a Miss Patterson of Baltimore, but finally consented to a most dishonorable divorce, to advance to his brother's supposed interests. He then married a German princess, and was proclaimed King of Westphalia. He went down with Napoleon's star, and after various vicissitudes, came up again with Louis Napoleon's emergence in 1848. Since then he has resided mostly at Paris. He had a strong personal resemblance to Napoleon, but, though a man of fair qualities, was entirely devoid of his brother's genius.

The tallest man in France has just expired, near Rouen, at the age of seventy-one, being M. Charles Gruel d'Indreville, of Nesle, Normandy, who founded, and for many years carried on some extensive glass-works at that place. His stature was near seven feet six inches, English, and his body was stout in proportion. In early life he entered the Imperial army as a private soldier, but soon gained the rank of sub-lieutenant. He was present in the battles of Wagram and Moscow. At one time he was a prisoner of war, and having fallen ill, was sent to the hospital of Konigsberg. The hospital was sacked by the Russians, and M. Gruel was thrown out into the street and he passed a whole night in the snow with scarcely any clothing. He, however, recovered and returned to France.

A TERRIBLE WAR SHIP.—The Phare de la Manche, published at Cherbourg, announces that the completion of the steel-plated frigate Normandie is being carried on with all possible dispatch. The plating is 12 centimetres thick, and is impervious to cannon shot unless a ball should strike the same spot 13 times; on the 13th shot it will be perforated. The Normandie is about to receive her masts, which are colossal. One remarkable weapon attached to this huge steamer is a spear, which projects from her prow, and which will when impelled by steam, cut a ship in two. This addition is regarded as a remarkable progress in the construction of such steamers.

DRUGS & MEDICINES.

DR. ADOLPHUS'

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

—AND—

Health Restorative

IT IS THE MOST VALUABLE AND UNPASSED remedy for Rheumatism and Gout to be found in the world, or known at present. The discoverer of the above medicine does claim liability in all cases of Rheumatism and Gout—when used according to directions, and does offer a reward of five thousand dollars to any medicine that does supersede it, and is equally valuable. The Doctor is enabled to offer the above reward on account of his having invented this medicine for ten years in his practice, and has never known it to fail in the cure of the most protracted cases of Rheumatism and Gout, and withstood all known remedies to the profession. Doctor Adolphus is known and rightly celebrated throughout the State, for his cures in Rheumatism, Gout and Chronic Diseases, and has only to the continued urgent efforts of his patients, and through the desire to help them who are not enabled to see him personally, or to spend a fortune in getting to see him, which they have contracted in the pursuit of their daily calling; only that has been done to persuade the Doctor to let the above medicine to the public, in such terms that every suffering one shall be able to reap its benefits.

As a Health Restorative its value supersedes all the mineral wealth and riches of California; and is creating a revolution in the whole treatment of disease throughout the world.

In secondary and tertiarv Syphilis, Scrofula, Enlargement of the Glands, Dropsey, and all Nervous and Cutaneous Diseases, and the whole train of Chronic Diseases, which withstand and baffle the skill of the most excellent and learned physician in the world; in Chronic Diseases which every name is a terror; as well to the physician, as to the patient, this medicine has proved to be superior to any in existence and stands in so short a time that they appear like being abolished by magic influence, and in a few more such discoveries, and druggists will not need to keep a lot of useless medicines on hand, whenever they are prescribed once in a ten score they have lost through time their properties in which their value did reside, if there was actually any in them.

Take this medicine when your digestive organs are disordered and your blood is impure, it will surely act on your bowels.

Take this medicine when you have a cold, and it will make you perspire freely.

Take this medicine to cure your urinary and absorbing organs are disordered, and it will act on your kidneys—it penetrates every part of your body, even the most remote and secret recesses of your system, and removes the disease located there; restores healthy action and gives tone to every organ in the human body—therefore it has righteously deserved the name it bears: HEALTH RESTORATIVE.

The Doctor, who is averse to all patent medicines, wishes it to be understood that the above medicine is no such thing; but that he has, through the introduction of this medicine with its treatment and directions for use, made every sufferer to be his own physician in the above named disease.

Thinking it under my dignity to follow the mode of quacks, by applying certificates of physicians or private individuals, which is too well known can be had for certain remunerations, applications of friends, or by the mode of boring a man half to death for even the most worthless trash, I will therefore leave it to those in want of medicine to inquire personally of me who have been cured by my medicines of the above diseases, and who can be found in almost every city and village throughout the State. I consider such personal conviction far superior to certificates of persons that are far from being known to them in want of medical aid.

But should any one care for written testimonials or certificates regarding this medicine performed by this medicine, they might call at my office, and I will show them certificates of true merit, which have been sent to me, voluntarily, without applying for them, or by boring individuals to get them.

To satisfy the most scrupulous of men, also as a guarantee to those that have not had the opportunity of knowing the Doctor by reputation or personally, I have adjointed to every bottle of the Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, the certificate, under oath, of one of the most celebrated analytical chemists in the United States, that there are no minerals nor poisons contained in this medicine, although it is very powerful medicine, and has a very strong action on the human system, which necessarily must have, to overcome the action of disease of such malignant character.
